MEMORANDUM FOR: See Distribution

SUBJECT : Task Force Meeting of 9 December 1975

STAT 1. The Task Force addressed paper VI regarding legislative proposals which OGC had issued for comments. Minor suggestions were given to [] who in turn will incorporate the comments into the final paper which will be submitted to the Director. The IC Staff proposed that the "core activities" section of the paper be given to Senator Church and Congressman Pike. ~~The Task Force turned down this suggestion with the opinion that it is best to retain this document internally to CIA and let OLC use it as a checklist to ensure that any proposed legislation not impact adversely on the necessary activities of the Agency.~~

STAT 2. The group then discussed an outline of the paper entitled "The Future of Intelligence" as prepared by []. In addition to the eight basic essentials for effective intelligence activities as proposed by [], the Task Force added three others, i.e., covert collection which would include reference to the necessity for cover arrangements; some statement would ensure that the intelligence is protected from political pressures; and, thirdly, permissibility for access to resources throughout the United States such as universities, institutions, etc.

3. The Task Force then addressed paper XIII entitled "How can the Agency win congressional acceptance of the Director's intelligence sources and methods legislation?". OGC demurred on paragraph c. regarding a fall-back position contending that we should not be willing to compromise on our point. There was further discussion between OLC and OGC on the legal nuances as well as legislative approach and the Task Force agreed that the two offices should meet separately on it to develop appropriate Agency strategy.

STAT 4. [] then distributed a matrix which summed up a thirteen-page talking paper which the Intelligence Community Staff prepared for Mr. Colby on 8 December 1975.

STAT

[redacted] noted that no comments as yet had been received from Mr. Colby. The paper develops the major functions of the DCI as well as various options regarding the role that the DCI should play with accompanying pros and cons.

STAT

5. [redacted] of OLC then distributed a draft statement which the Director would make on his hearings on congressional oversight (final page attached). The Task Force members were asked to review the paper and get their comments to OLC before the Friday meeting.

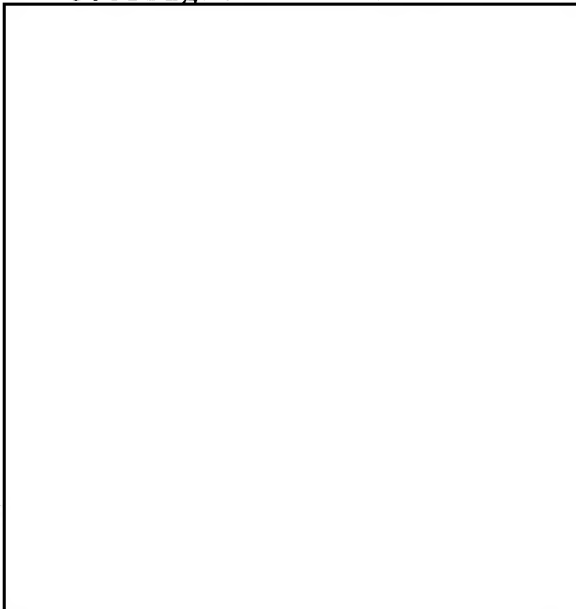

6. It was noted that three papers on (a) the DCI's responsibility for providing substantive intelligence to Congress, (b) the predictability of major international events, and (c) how best to produce estimates, were forwarded to the Director on 6 December.

because they too believe in democracy, but they will not work with us if they perceive there to be a substantial risk they will be revealed. I urge this committee to endorse additional protection for intelligence sources and methods.
